

Land Dispossession and Capital Accumulation in a Late Industrialisation Context: Case of Gangnam apartments in South Korea

Jung Won Sonn

Assistant Professor
Bartlett School of Planning
University College London

28 October 2014
12:00 – 1 PM
Room H-1269

Dr. Jung Won SONN is Assistant Professor in Urban Economic Development at Bartlett School of Planning, University College London. His research is focused on two themes within the regional economic development realm: 1) the urban and regional dimension of technological knowledge production and 2) political analysis of regional economic planning. The geographical focuses of his research are the U.S., South Korea and China.

Presented by the Department of Geography, Planning, and Environment
Co-sponsored by Planners Network-Montreal, GUSS (Geography Undergraduate Students Society) and UPA (Urban Planning Association)