MASTER YOUR MANDATE:

integrate next-generation leadership innovations into a unique context and bring a comprehensive, deliberate vision to your institution and career.

July 2 – 6, 2019

The mission of the new Academic Leadership Institute at Concordia University is to help define and promote innovative leadership across our sector. At a time when ideas and practices are in flux, the Institute seeks to anchor academic leadership in adaptability and resilience according to three principles:

- Academic leadership is an intellectual endeavour.
- Leadership is a moral enterprise.
- Good leadership is practical.

Our summer program is the cornerstone of our vision. The inaugural 4.5-day session is an intensive, immersive experience for senior academic leaders whose collective vision will define Canada's higher education sector in the years ahead.

Join our inaugural cohort and help shape the future of academic leadership in Canada while enjoying the best of what Montreal has to offer.

LEADERSHIP BY DESIGN

The Academic Leadership Institute is guided by the principle that administrative service is as worthy of our intellectual curiosity as any other academic practice. Our program reflects this by constituting applied research, serving not only as a training opportunity but a collective research endeavour.

- Blur the conventional boundaries between research and administrative service.
- Developing methodology and interview protocols, driving the development of the Institute while carving out space for reflection.

PHILOSOPHY MEETS PRACTICE

Our program is structured around four thematic cases co-taught by distinguished leaders from throughout the Canadian academy to facilitate actionable reflection.

- Managing talent
- Crisis communications
- Advancement
- Strategic planning

Reflecting the values of academic inquiry, our rigorous, case-based program espouses the value of deliberate, reflective action. Daily integrative sessions focus on resilience and executive presence to consolidate your growth and individual leadership development. The cases span a range of conditions and form a cumulative, increasingly complex framework.

COLLABORATIVE LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

When academic leaders from institutions across Canada come together, we have the opportunity to reimagine our entire sector through collaborative exchange. This is why our inaugural 2019 summer program aims for the best of both individual and collective leadership development. As a leader at the decanal level or above, your expertise prepares you to leverage the experiences of your peers and find the lessons in your own.
