

MRI: The Material Religion Initiative presents

Images, Image Wars, and the Study of Religion

a public lecture by

Dr. Birgit Meyer

Thursday, April 7 | 5:30 PM
Room 767 | Hall Building
Sir George Williams Campus
1455 de Maisonneuve W.
Concordia University

Birgit Meyer (Religious Studies, Utrecht University) is one of Europe's leading anthropologists of religion and the author of numerous ground-breaking works on religion, material and visual culture, including, most recently, Sensational Movies: Video, Vision and Christianity in Ghana (University of California Press 2015).

This event is sponsored by the Centre for Interdisciplinary Studies in Society and Culture, the Global Emergent Media Lab, the Departments of Religion, Communication Studies, and Sociology & Anthropology, the Office of the Vice-President, Research and Graduate Studies, Concordia University, and the Department of Anthropology, McGill University. For more information please contact Catherine van Reenen at cathvanreenen@gmail.com.