Arts Festival Approved By Senate

Senate, at last Friday's meeting, approved in principle the concept of a university-wide festival for creative work in the arts.

Final details of prizes and judging will be dealt with at a subsequent sitting of Senate. Active members of the committee which proposed the festival were: Prof. P. Cohen, Prof. G. Gross, Dr. J.E. O'Brien, Mr. R. Quinn, Mr. F.M. Sheldon and Dr. P.F. Widdows.

The present concept has awards amounting to $100 for winners of the various sections of the festival. The monetary awards will be a substitute for the Board of Governors Medals that have customarily been awarded at Sir George campus.

Undergraduate students, full or part-time will be eligible to enter the competition.

The first festival will take place toward the end of March, 1976, using the facilities of both campuses, preferably on two successive days. Different categories of awards would be allocated to each campus, with the understanding that the following year they be moved to the other campus.

Award categories include: Theatre, three awards—acting, direction, playwriting; music, three awards—performance, composition, other; Visual Arts, three awards—painting, sculpture, graphics; Literature, three awards—poetry, fiction, other prose; Film, four awards—cinematography, scenario, direction, animation; Television, three awards—videography, script, direction; Photography, one award; Sound, one award.

Three-member juries, approved by Senate, will judge each category. There will also be a special award for experimentation, winner to be chosen from submissions to the regular categories. The three-member committees of judges will be composed of one faculty member from each campus, plus one person from outside the university.

A committee representing Faculty of Fine Arts, Sir George Faculty of Arts, Loyola Faculty of Arts & Sciences and the student associations will be responsible for the organization of the awards and the events.

This committee will also work with the Development Director to find appropriate sponsorship both for the awards and for a reception for the students, the juries and the press.

Second Degree Policy

Senate has approved a policy on second degrees at the undergraduate level.

At Friday's meeting the body established that the second degree seeker must register in a program with a higher concentration than the minor level. The student must take at least 36 credits in a new field of specialization.

The student must complete a total of 60 credits in courses other than those taken for the first degree.

In other business, five new senators were named: Profs. E. West and P. Brunet from Commerce and Administration, Profs. P. Morley and D. Frost from Sir George Faculty of Arts and J. Bartlett from the Loyola Evening Students Association.

Search Deadline

The Search Committee for a Dean of Graduate Studies has begun its work, and has established October 31, 1975, as deadline for applications for this position.

German Film Fest

Seven German films of recent vintage (1974-75) will be screened starting next week at the Conservatory of Cinematographic Art.

First on the 4-day festival bill next Thursday night is "Wrong Movement," a story in the vein of a portrait of the artist as a young man. Directed by Wim Wenders, it's based on Goethe's Wilhelm Meister.

Most of the films that follow seem to deal, one way or another, with society's misfits. Friday's double bill features "The Brutalization of Franz Blum," the story of a young man from a "good" family who goes wrong; and "Occasional Work of a Women Slave," the tribulations of a woman who supports her family by performing abortions.

On Saturday, "Haupt-lehrer Hofer" tells of a young schoolmaster's turn-of-the-century battle to better living conditions in a small Alsatian village; and "Lina Braake" is a contemporary tale of an 82-year-old woman whose home is expropriated for a bank site and her clever revenge on the bank.

Closing out the series is "Danger and Distress"—a half-documentary, half-fiction film that blends the story of a prostitute-thief and a secret agent in a real-life Frankfurt setting. And "Alice in the Cities" traces the adventures of a journalist who accompanies an eight-year-old from New York to Amsterdam for a rendezvous with her mother; but he's stuck with Alice when her mother doesn't show.

All the films have English subtitles and the usual proviso applies: program subject to change without notice. Details will be listed under Events.

Smoke Screen

Where there's smoke, there's another group being formed. Those annoyed by smoking in Hall Building classes will meet this Friday and next (Oct. 31 and Nov. 7) 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., in H-611 to discuss what to do about it.

An outright ban will be considered, as well as limiting the habit to specific sections of the classroom.

Get-Together Gets'em Together

Loyola Accountancy professor Henry Dauderis has discovered the best way to mix job-seekers and job-givers—hold a party.

Thursday, Oct. 16 he arranged a get-together with some 60 final year accounting students and representatives of 20 companies. The "event," as Dauderis refers to it, started at 4 p.m. in the Loyola Faculty Club and lasted until almost 7, when the convivial gathering ended. Some of the more enthusiastic participants continued on to the students' lounge.

"It was much more than a party," said Dauderis. "It was an excellent way to break the ice between the students and the companies."

Accounting firms are now busy recruiting prospective chartered accountants for next year. Students agreed that the get-together had the effect of paving the way to smoother, more confident interviews. "It's a lot easier to talk to an interviewer when you know the person by their first name," commented one student.

Dauderis says this is the first time he has heard of such a practical and enjoyable solution to the perennial problem of stiff, uncommunicative job interviews. He added that "The Smiths", from the Sir George Gallery One exhibit of paintings by William Blair Bruce, one of Hamilton's finest sons. Through Nov. 11.

Loyola Hillel Said Active

Loyola Hillel is infused with new life, says vice-president Nicolette de Smit. The Loyola branch of the Jewish students society has put together an active and exciting program for the next month.

Nicolette de Smit

Loyola Hillel was started two years ago and Nicolette de Smit says the group hadn't been very active but this year things have changed.

On Tuesday, Nov. 4, they'll be presenting Sheva Zucker and a multi-media presentation on Eastern European Jewry at noon in the Vanier Auditorium.

Hassidic Rabbi Motty Berger will speak at Hillel House, 7356 Sherbrooke West at noon, Thursday, Nov. 6 about Jewish mysticism and everyday life.

Israel Day will be presented Tuesday, Nov. 11 at Hingston Hall from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Israeli music, dancing and food will be featured.

De Smit says Hillel is negotiating with the Arab Student Society to co-sponsor a talk by Egyptian journalist Sana Hassan, co-author with an Israeli writer of Between Enemies. Her topic will be Arab-Israeli relations and she is scheduled to speak Wednesday, Nov. 12 at noon in the Vanier Auditorium.

The following Thursday, Nov. 20, former NDP leader David Lewis will speak at noon in the F.C. Smith Auditorium, tentatively his subject will be Canadian economic policy.
