A note on COVID-19

As Concordia University has closed its campus in response to the coronavirus pandemic, some of the groups and services listed in the following pages might not be active this year, and others have changed to adapt to the new realities.

We decided to keep the map as it was, in order to give you an idea of the services that exist at and around Concordia, and to give you something to look forward to explore when things start opening up again!

Sustainable Concordia

Sustainable Concordia is a resource initiative that takes action to reform, transform, and revolutionize unjust systems contributing to the climate crisis by connecting students, faculty, administration, and the wider community.

We offer workshops, events, meeting and study spaces, and a specialized Resource Library, free and open to all.

Since 2002, SC has led campaigns for everything from reusable water bottles to divestment from fossil fuels. We've also been a key part of launching other organizations like the Concordia Greenhouse, the Dish Project, and the Sustainability Action Fund.

Come visit us at 2090 Mackay!

WHERE TO FIND... →

Cups & dishes for your event

① The Dish Project loans out dishes and utensils free of charge!

Funding for your project

The ② Sustainability Action Fund funds student-driven sustainability projects on campus. Have an idea? Apply for funding!

Free lunch every weekday!

Bring your container to ③ People's Potato and fill it with a free vegan meal every weekday between 12:30 and 2 pm!

Looking for dinner instead? Don't miss the $2 vegan meals every Monday evening at ④ Mother Hubbard's Cupboard!

Cheap bites, coffee & produce

⑤ The Hive is a student-run café with great coffee, food and prices.

Looking for something specific? Check out ⑥ Frigo Vert, where you'll find cheap organic produce and bulk food, and even a pay-what-you-can café!

Also, make sure to pass by the ⑦ Farmer's Market every Wednesday from 11-6pm, for local, organic goods and other goodies.

Free materials & supplies!

Concordia University's Center for Creative Reuse (⑧ CUCCR) diverts materials from Concordia's waste-stream and offers them back to the community free of cost. You can find some really cool stuff!

Help with your bike

The folks at 9 Right to Move will show you how to fix your bicycle and provide the tools to do it!

Study spaces

Apart from the libraries mentioned on the right, you'll find a prized study spot in the heart of Concordia's 10 Greenhouse, surrounded by plants and sunlight.

Movies

Watch great, independent, political movies at 11 Cinema Politica Concordia, or express your own truth to power by borrowing equipment from 12 CUTV!

Books

Get your books and textbooks new or used at the 13 Co-op Bookstore, a not-for-profit alternative to the corporate overlords!

Also keep in mind that there are many alternative libraries around campus, such as our own Sustainability Resource Library, 14 QPIRG's Alternative Library, and others!

Peer support & more!

The 15 Center for Gender Advocacy offers workshops, panels, and trans health resources. They also advocate for racial and gender justice, on campus and beyond. Also visit 16 Queer Concordia for all your LGBTQ+ needs, including free safer sex products, a library and more!
