“Reconnaissance in the Culture of Nature and other Funny Business”

Mark Dion's work examines the ways in which dominant ideologies and public institutions shape our understanding of history, knowledge, and the natural world. In this public lecture, Dion will discuss major exhibitions and projects completed over the past thirty years, several of which have won awards and international critical acclaim. His visit to Concordia marks the first Wild Talks lecture in honour of Catherine Wild, former Dean of the Faculty of Fine Arts. The Lecture series is funded by the generosity of Erin Hogg.
