Congratulations on Graduation – What’s Next?

The outcome of graduation is very much in the student’s hands. How life unfolds after that is unpredictable and influenced a lot by external factors, often beyond the student’s control. Every student wishes to have a challenging, fulfilling and enjoyable professional life. But real life sometimes turns out to be very frustrating..... How can you increase your chances to have your dream career and keep it in these tumultuous economic times?

If you are looking for practical tips on landing your dream job and turning it into a challenging and fulfilling career and what personal attributes to focus on and improve upon, this presentation is for you.
