

The Azrieli Institute of Israel Studies presents:

THE MYSTERY OF ATLIT YAM

AN UNDERWATER ARCHAEOLOGY DOCUMENTARY

Meet the film's director, Jean Bergeron and archaeologist,
Dr. Ehud Galili

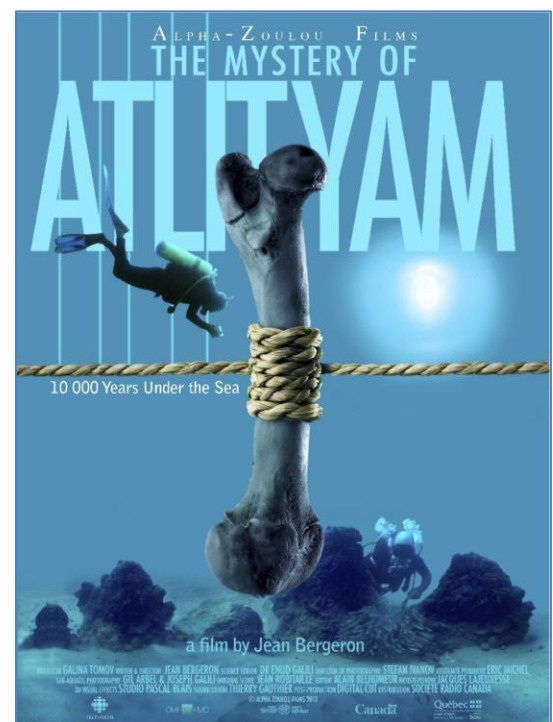

Tuesday, March 5

5:00 pm

SB-Atrium

1590 Docteur Penfield

This event is open to the public.

In the mind of any adventurer-to-be, lies the dream of one day discovering an actual lost city. The Atlit Yam site is clearly one of archaeology's most precious gems, at the same level of importance as the Rosetta stone, Tutankhamen's tomb, Lascaux's caves or Machu Picchu... And it was truly lost for millennia, 10 meters under the surface of the sea - a dream come true! Here is the story of the most important find in the history of submarine archaeology.

Dr. Ehud Galili is a senior researcher from the University of Haifa, Zinman Institute of Archaeology.

Jean Bergeron is a director and script writer for more than 20 years.