Research Interests: discourse analysis, sociolinguistics, and course design.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The Minor in Modern Arabic Language and Culture and the Certificate in Modern Arabic Language and Culture program aims to provide language competency in Modern Standard Arabic and, through the inclusion of courses on culture, literature and topics offered by other departments (history, religion, and political science), a broad overview of Arabic culture.

The department offers two programs in Modern Standard Arabic language and Arabic culture, each 30 credits: the Minor and the Certificate. The Minor program gives students majoring in another discipline a valid and adequate background in Modern Standard Arabic language and culture studies.

PLACEMENT

To find out whether or not you should take a language placement test and how to access the tests, please visit the link below:

<https://www.concordia.ca/artsci/cml/programs/undergraduate/modern-languages/language-placement.html>

2024 – 2025 OFFERED COURSES

THE DEPARTMENT RESERVES THE RIGHT TO TRANSFER A STUDENT TO A HIGHER-LEVEL LANGUAGE COURSE IF IT IS DEEMED THAT THE COURSE FOR WHICH THE STUDENT HAS REGISTERED IS NOT APPROPRIATE FOR THE EXTENT OF HIS OR HER KNOWLEDGE OF THE LANGUAGE.

MARA 200 Introduction to Modern Standard Arabic I

(6 credits) This course provides an intensive introduction to the basic elements of Modern Standard Arabic for the student with no knowledge of the language. Instruction addresses all the language competencies of Modern Standard Arabic. NOTE: Students who have received credit for MARA 203 or 205 or 207 or heritage speakers or students with knowledge of the Arabic script may not take this course for credit.

MARA 203 Modern Standard Arabic for Heritage Speakers I

(3 credits) This course provides an introduction to the basic elements of Modern Standard Arabic for students with basic or limited knowledge of the language. It is designed for heritage speakers with no reading and writing skills in Modern Standard Arabic but with knowledge of dialect vocabulary and oral skills. The course is also for non-heritage students who know the Arabic script but have never studied the Arabic language.

NOTE: Heritage speakers placed into this course can continue with MARA 207 while non-heritage speakers can continue with MARA 206 upon successful completion of this course. NOTE: Students who have received credit for this topic under a MARA 298 number may not take this course for credit.

MARA 206 Introduction to Modern Standard Arabic II

(6 credits) Prerequisite: MARA 200 or 203 or equivalent. This course continues the introduction to the basic elements of Modern Standard Arabic. Students practice conversation skills on basic general topics. NOTE: Students who have received credit for MARA 207 may not take this course for credit.

MARA 240 Intermediate Modern Standard Arabic I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MARA 206 or 207 or equivalent. This course provides a review of the basic elements of Modern Standard Arabic and continues to develop the four language skills within their cultural context. Students prepare brief essays and oral presentations.

MARA 320 Modern Arabic Fiction (3 credits)

This course examines key developments in Arabic fiction related to the contemporary Arabic-speaking world with the aim of highlighting the distinctive texture of its experiences and identities. The chosen texts cover a wide range of topics and convey the complex and rich cultural diversity of the Arab World. The course is taught in English and knowledge of Arabic is not required.

MARA 365 Culture and Civilization of the Arab World: The Golden Age

(3 credits) This course provides an overview of the cultural history of the Arab world with an emphasis on the "Golden Age" (eighth to 13th century). Special attention is given to some topics at the core of this period, namely the intellectual dynamics, sciences and arts. The Arab civilization is put into the political, social and religious contexts that allowed it to emerge and flourish. This course is taught in English and no prior knowledge of Arabic is required. NOTE: Students who have received credit for MARA 365 under a different title may not take this course for credit.
