
Mitacs Drop-In Session

Dear Student:

We invite you to attend a drop-in clinic presented by Dr. Amanda Rossi, Business Development Specialist at Mitacs:

Title: Mitacs Research Funds for Graduate Students and Postdoctoral Fellows

When: March 14, 2018, 2 p.m. – 3 p.m.

Where: LB 921-4 Conference Room

Mitacs builds partnerships between academia, industry and the world to create a more innovative Canada. Through unique research funding and training programs, Mitacs aims to support the development of the next generation of innovators with vital scientific and business skills. This workshop presents the innovation challenge that Canada faces, reviews the various research funding programs available for graduate student and postdoctoral fellows, including Mitacs Accelerate, Elevate, Globalink, and Training. It also outlines basic techniques for identifying and reaching out to industry partners.

About Dr. Rossi: Dr. Amanda Rossi joined Mitacs in 2017 following a Postdoctoral Fellowship at the Research Institute of the McGill University Health Centre. Previously completing her undergraduate and graduate studies at Concordia University, Amanda is a trained physiologist and epidemiologist with a passion for research and innovation. Her role at Mitacs is to connect university-based researchers with industry and community partners to drive economic development in Canada through collaborative innovation projects and simultaneously engage graduate students in work-integrated learning experiences.

We look forward to seeing you there!
