

The Department of Political Science's Human Rights
Lecture Series presents:

Radha D'Souza, *Professor,
University of Westminster;
Visiting Scholar, McGill University
Law School*

What's Wrong with Rights? Social Movements, Law and Liberal Imaginations

Thursday, April 12, 2018
5:30 pm

Henry F. Hall Building, room 1220
1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd. West

Dr. Radha D'Souza teaches international public law at the University of Westminster, UK. She has worked as an organizer and activist lawyer for labour movements, democratic rights and social justice movements in the Asia-Pacific region. As a legal scholar, she has written extensively on the politics and of human rights and on social justice issues in non-Western countries. Her latest book, What's Wrong with Rights? Social Movements, Law and Liberal Imaginations, was recently released by Pluto Press. Dr. D'Souza is currently in Montreal as a Visiting Scholar at McGill University's Law School.