

CSBN Fall 2015 Colloquium and Workshop

September 24-25, 2015

Center for Studies in Behavioral Neurobiology

Thu Sep 24, 2015
Room RF 110
4:10 pm

Colloquium

Dr. Kent Berridge
University of Michigan

Motivation concepts and the brain.
Host: James Pfaus

Fri Sep 25, 2015
Room RF 110
9:00 am

Fall Workshop 2015

Welcome

Motivation: The little concept that could. But did it?

9:15 am

Dr. James Pfaus
CSBN / Concordia University

There and back again: Motivation from expectancy to drive to incentive to cognition to utility.

10:00 am

Coffee break

10:15 am

Dr. Robert Zatorre
McGill University

From perception to pleasure:
Music and its neural substrates.

11:00 am

Student data blitz

- Emily Cole
(D. Mumby lab, CSBN / Concordia U.)
- Léa Décarie-Spain
(S. Fulton lab, CSBN / U. de Montréal)
- Firas Sedki
(U. Shalev lab, CSBN / Concordia U.)
- Sherri Lee Jones, PhD
(formerly J. Pfaus lab, CSBN / Concordia U.)
- Travis Baker, PhD
(A. Dagher lab, McGill U.)

Effects of hippocampal lesions on rats' performance on a time-place learning task.

Alterations in motivation by diet-induced obesity: Role of inflammatory mechanisms in the nucleus accumbens.

What about the cue? Potential modulation of cue value by food restriction in rats with a history of heroin self-administration.

Estradiol turns her on! Divergent mechanisms of appetitive and consummatory sexual behaviors.

Modulating reward valuation in substance use disorders using multi-modal neuroimaging.

12:00 pm

Lunch (Room RF 130)

1:00 pm

Dr. Alison Fleming
University of Toronto at Mississauga

The neuropsychology of mothering and the effects of early experience.

1:45 pm

Dr. Marco Leyton
CSBN / McGill University

The pursuit of happiness:
Motivational processes in addiction.

2:30 pm

Concluding remarks

For more information:

<http://www.concordia.ca/csbn>
csbn.info@concordia.ca
(514) 848-2424 ext. 7557