CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF LEARNING AND PERFORMANCE
CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

1211 Saint-Mathieu St. Montreal, QC, H3H 2S2

This multidisciplinary art residency, held at Concordia's CSLP, focused on obstacles in teaching and pedagogy. Artist-teacher-researchers from various fields—including visual arts, performance, dance, cinéma, and video mapping—investigated how art can be used for communication, reflection, and problem-solving around emerging constraints. Overall, this residency explored obstacles as a driving force in teaching and artistic practices.
