

February 22, 2023 (5-7pm)

Bringing storytelling into research: a craft talk on narratives in the humanities in the social sciences

Bengi Akbulut

(Associate Professor, Geography, Planning and Environment)

Kregg Hetherington

(Associate Professor, Sociology and Anthropology)

Natalie Kouri-Towe

*(Assistant Professor, Simone
de Beauvoir Institute & Womens Studies)*

Eleni Schirmer

(Postdoctoral researcher, Social Justice Centre)

How do you build narrative in your work? Who do you speak to, and how? How does narrative figure into critical social sciences and humanities work? Join us for a conversation on the role, limits, and possibilities of narratives and storytelling in social justice research, teaching, and communication.