

A large stained glass window depicting St. Augustine, a bearded man in a mitre and red and gold vestments, holding a book and a crozier. The window is set in a Gothic archway with intricate tracery.

AUGUSTINE AND THE PRINCIPLES OF POLITICAL ORDER

DR. TODD BREYFOGLE
DIRECTOR OF SEMINARS
THE ASPEN INSTITUTE

Thursday, January 31, 2013, 4 pm
H-1220

1st Lecture in the 2013 Series

'Implicating Augustine: Human Nature, God and Governance'

Sponsored by the Department of Political Science, the Liberal Arts College and the Department of Theological Studies, with the cooperation of the Department of Political Science