ACCEPTANCE NOTIFICATION

Applicants will be notified on the results of their application at the beginning of December 2022. Bursaries are subject to availability.

CONDITIONS

The bursary amounts for full tuition of the Certificate in AI Proficiency for a total of $3,140. The bursary may not be cashed out to pay for other expenses or transferred to other programs and courses at Concordia University. Should the recipient not complete their study program for the duration of the 120-hour program, the bursary will be forfeited. Bursaries are based primarily on financial need and application statements. You must apply to be considered for available bursaries. Submission of an application does not guarantee a bursary offer. The bursary will automatically apply towards any tuition fees owed. Payments for all bursaries will be applied directly to recipients' tuition fees for the Certificate in AI Proficiency. If a recipient has already paid their tuition fees at the time a bursary is awarded, they can leave the credit on their account, or they may request a refund by contacting cce@concordia.ca.

All contracts are subject to revision for adjustment of errors. The University reserves the right to cancel any course, workshop or program due to insufficient registration.

I agree that I will be bound by and undertake to observe the rules, regulations and policies in place at Continuing Education, at Concordia University, including those policies contained in the Academic Calendar and those printed on this Application Contract. Send your application to cce@concordia.ca.
