Let's stand up for the cities we want.

Canada's future quality of life and prosperity are directly tied to the health and vitality of our cities.

We are an urban nation; we cannot afford to ignore our urban areas by implementing policies that hurt cities and the people who live in and around them.

We Are Cities is a new campaign to engage Canadians across the country to shape a vision and action plan for how we can build livable cities – exciting and healthy places to live, work and play.
