

November 11, 2020

To Whom It May Concern,

The start of Concordia University's winter 2021 term will be delayed by one week. Winter 2021 classes will now commence on Wednesday, January 13, 2021. The term will remain a 13-week term, ending on April 20, 2021.

Please note the following additional details and date changes:

- The university will re-open on January 11 and all services will resume, including limited in-person access to the library and the Birks Student Service Centre.
- DNE date for winter 2021: moved from January 19 to January 26
- DISC for winter 2021: moved from March 22 to March 29
- The current dates for Reading Week 2021 (March 1-5) remain the same
- The new final exams period: April 24 - May 9
- Tuition fee deadlines have already been extended:
concordia.ca/admissions/tuition-fees/fee-payment-deadlines
- The start of the 2021 summer terms will be delayed. More details on specific new dates will be available soon.

As was the case during the Fall 2020 term, the Winter 2021 term will be delivered remotely, but some in-person activities will continue to be offered, as long as health and safety guidelines allow it. The list of in-person activities can be found on the Concordia website by visiting concordia.ca/coronavirus/return-to-campus/activities.

Kind regards,

Stéphanie de Celles
Registrar