Re: Application for Youth Intervention Worker position

Dear Betty Smith,

I am writing to express my interest in the Youth Intervention Worker position at Windsor Youth Services. With my background in psychological assessment, mediation, and trauma counselling, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team of professionals dedicated to helping at risk youth and their families. My academic training in psychology and sociology, coupled with my hands-on experience with at-risk youth in community centers and hospitals, has equipped me with the ability to assess cases and intervene in crisis situations.

During my time at Concordia University, I pursued a bachelor's degree in psychology and a minor in sociology, specializing in crisis intervention and counselling and the juvenile justice system. I completed two internships with youth community centers in Quebec and Nova Scotia. These internships provided me with hands-on experience in assessment and mediation units where I developed case referrals and evaluated overall program effectiveness. To successfully fulfill my job responsibilities, I relied heavily on my research abilities and interpersonal skills, which I honed through direct interactions with staff and service users.

In addition to my internships, I volunteered at the Montreal Children's Hospital, where I worked with teenagers dealing with trauma and substance abuse. This role required me to communicate effectively with healthcare professionals, patients, and their families, often in high-pressure situations. My time at the hospital not only enhanced my communication skills but also taught me how to thrive in a fast-paced and stressful environment.

The Counseling Unit at Windsor Youth Services has an excellent reputation for client care and high success rates. I am impressed by your commitment to making a positive impact on the lives of troubled youth, and I am passionate about working with teens. I am confident that my academic training, hands-on experience, and dedication to helping others make me an ideal candidate for the Youth Intervention Worker position and to contribute to the impactful work being done at Windsor Youth Services. Thank you for considering my application. I welcome the opportunity to discuss my qualifications further.

Sincerely,
Rhea Bilitator
