

This resource was compiled by Concordia University Health Services and is updated regularly. The purpose of this list is to help you find a medical specialist in Montreal.

In Quebec, you need a doctor's referral to see a medical specialist.

Specialists' fees

Specialist fees are paid for with the Quebec Health Card (RAMQ). If you do not have RAMQ (people from out of province or international students) you will need to pay to see a specialist. The cost to see a specialist may be reimbursed by your provincial insurance plan or for international students by Blue Cross. Ask about fees for non-RAMQ patients when you make your appointment.

If you are having trouble accessing a specialist, call Health Services and ask to speak to a nurse for guidance.

Allergy

(Please note there are fees for allergy testing that may not be covered by insurance)
