

Momus Emerging Critics Residency (2020)

The Faculty of Fine Arts and Art Volt invites applications for the Momus Emerging Critics Residency. The 2020 residency is a two-week summer program taking place online this August. Participants will have access to 10 days of workshops and lectures, as well as remote writing mentorship with Momus Publisher Sky Goodden and Senior Editor Casey Beal.

The program is open to paying participants, students and professionals.

The fee for this two-week residency is $600 CAD.

Art Volt will cover the participation fee for students registered for graduation, or alumni having graduated from Concordia University's Faculty of Fine Arts, within the last five years.

If you are not a student registered for graduation or recent alum, Momus Publisher Sky Goodden can assist with grant endorsements to cover the program's costs.
