Details:

Applicants to The Claudine and Stephen Bronfman Fellowship in Contemporary Art will demonstrate exceptional ability in his or her medium or media. Recognizing that many artists today work across disciplines, this fellowship is directed towards students whose body of work is focused on the visual arts. This includes the following disciplines: ceramics, design, drawing, fibres, digital media, painting, photography, print media, sculpture and installation. Performance-based art practices are not eligible for consideration unless they are undertaken within the context of contemporary visual arts practices and form a minority of the applicant's practice.

The fellowship will be awarded each year to a full-time Concordia University student in good standing who has completed or is about to complete a graduate degree in one of the eligible program areas listed above. The award recipient must be a citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

This post-graduate award will be provided to the most promising graduate student who is preparing to be a professional artist or designer by undertaking the production of research/creation work, disseminating that research, developing and expanding personal research networks, broadening their teaching experience and preparing for various research grant competitions over the two year period of the fellowship.

Award recipients will be provided with the opportunity to teach one course and give one public lecture at Concordia University during the fellowship. The Bronfman fellow is responsible for determining an appropriate research dissemination strategy that is expected to include an exhibition or event at an appropriate venue within the Montreal area. The Bronfman fellow must be resident in Montreal during the tenure of the award. Concordia facilities are available but the terms of access will be determined on an individual basis.

Candidates who graduate in June 2013, October 2013 or June 2014 are eligible to apply for this application round (deadline: Nov. 1, 2013).

Applications received will be reviewed first by the department who will then nominate applicants for fellowship consideration. The selected candidate must be able to take up the award within six months of receipt. Please see the timeline at the end of this document.

Consult the application form for detailed application requirements.

The fellowship candidates must demonstrate exceptional ability in their body of creative work. They will be assessed on their record of achievements to date, relevant experience and creative work, and on the quality of the research-creation program they propose. The fellowship at Concordia University will be adjudicated by a jury comprising a minimum of one external juror and one faculty member each from Concordia and UQAM, chaired by Concordia's Fine Arts Associate Dean, Research.

Fellowship recipients must submit a report every six months and at completion of the fellowship, providing a teaching dossier if applicable within the reporting period and outlining research progress.

Deadline: Nov. 1, 2013
