

CIWESS SOCIO-ECONOMIC SEMINAR SERIES

Concordia University, Montreal, QC

Talk scheduled from 4:00 p.m. to 5:10 p.m., Location: EV 3.309

'How to communicate and manage your stakeholders in a project?'

Thursday, July 20th, 2017

Christelle Faivre, President, Sustain Expert

Christelle Faivre, is the president of Sustain Expert, a group of experts who support and advise companies in the management of risks related to quality, environment, crisis management, health & safety and stakeholder engagement.

Christelle has more than 17 years of international experience in the field of assessment, auditing, business process optimization, and the implementation of innovative technologies, in the energy sectors. Additionally she is the founder of jobcsr.com, a platform where job seekers connect with employers and find jobs in Sustainability.

Abstract: Success or failure of a project depends heavily on your communications and management of your stakeholders. The presentation will provide insight into how we can better integrate stakeholders, how we can work with them to build appropriate stakeholder engagement during all the phases of your engineering projects. The presenter will use real life examples, existing models, to illustrate the topic.

For more information, contact Priyanka Pandey at programcoordinator@encs.concordia.ca , Tel: 514-848-2424, ext. 4250 .

