

CIWESS SOCIO-ECONOMIC SEMINAR SERIES

Concordia University, Montreal, QC

Talk scheduled from 4:00 p.m. to 5:10 p.m., Location: EV 3.309

Breathing Under Water: Aiming to change the world through art and community engagement

Tuesday, November 14th, 2017

Kathleen Vaughan, Gardens of Water: New Carlisle (2017). Digital photograph and installation of water sample. Dimensions

Abstract: In this illustrated artist's talk, Kathleen Vaughan speaks about Gardens of Water and Walk in the Water / Marcher sur les eaux, artistic projects that use photographs, installations, textile maps and audio to raise awareness of the connectedness of our waterways and remind viewers of the preciousness of this finite resource.

For more information, contact Priyanka Pandey at programcoordinator@encs.concordia.ca , Tel: 514-848-2424, ext. 4250 .

Kathleen Vaughan, Associate Professor, Concordia University

Kathleen is an artist and educator with studio- and community-based practices that explore questions of place, often from a social or environmental justice perspective. She is Associate Professor of Art Education and Concordia University Research Chair in Socially Engaged Art and Public Pedagogies. akaredhanded.com

