Peer Review

Taylor & Francis is committed to peer-review integrity and upholding the highest standards of review. Once your paper has been assessed for suitability by the editor, it will then be single blind peer reviewed by independent, anonymous expert referees. Find out more about what to expect during peer review and read our guidance on publishing ethics.

The journal should have a blind peer review process.

- If the journal is open access in Ulrich's, you will need to check the title further in DOAJ

The open lock symbol means the journal is open access and needs to be checked further.

8. Go to DOAJ and check the journal title.

The screenshot shows the DOAJ (Directory of Open Access Journals) website. At the top, the DOAJ logo is displayed. Below the logo is a navigation bar with links: Home, Search, Browse Subjects, Apply, News, About, For Publishers, and API. A search bar contains the text "African Human Rights Law Journal" and a search icon. Below the search bar, there are two radio buttons: "journals" (which is selected and circled in red) and "articles". A link for "[Advanced Search]" is also visible. Below the search bar, the DOAJ logo is repeated, and a "SUPPORT DOAJ" button is located in the top right corner. The navigation bar is repeated below the logo, with a "Login" link added on the right. The main content area displays the journal title "African Human Rights Law Journal" and its ISSN numbers: "1609-073X (Print); 1996-2096 (Online)". A Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) license icon is shown with a green checkmark. Below the journal title, there are two columns of information. The left column contains a "Homepage" link and details about the publisher (Pretoria University Law Press), society/institution (University of Pretoria, Law Faculty), country (South Africa), platform/host/aggregator (University of Pretoria (UP)), date added to DOAJ (17 Jan 2018), and record last updated (17 Jan 2018). The right column contains the LCC Subject Category (Law: Asia and Eurasia, Africa, Pacific Area, and Antarctica), publisher's keywords (human rights), language of fulltext (English), and full-text formats available (PDF, HTML). Below these columns, there are two sections: "PUBLICATION CHARGES" and "EDITORIAL INFORMATION". The "PUBLICATION CHARGES" section lists Article Processing Charges (APCs) as No., Submission Charges as No., and Waiver policy for charges? as No. The "EDITORIAL INFORMATION" section lists Peer review, Editorial Board, Aims and scope, Instructions for authors, and Time From Submission to Publication: 24 weeks.

If the journal is open access and listed in the DOAJ, it can be used in your research paper.

If you cannot locate the title of an open access journal in the DOAJ, it cannot be used in your research paper.
