Overview: The Office of the Vice-President, Research and Graduate Studies’ Aid to Research Related Events, Publication, Exhibition and Dissemination Activities (ARRE) Program aims to stimulate knowledge transfer and exchange, as well as support visibility and outreach initiatives that contribute to the scientific life of the university. This program supports two types of projects: Events (e.g. visiting scholars/artists, speaker series, conferences, and public lectures) and Dissemination (e.g. workshops, publications, exhibitions).

Value: Up to $5,000 Requests must include matching funds, equal to the requested amount (1:1). Matching funds are required in the form of cash contributions (in-kind and registration fees are not eligible as matching funds).

Duration: 1 year (two competitions per year - Fall and Spring). Only one award will be granted per faculty member per academic year. Unspent funds at the end of the year will be returned to the University and accounts closed. No extensions will be provided.

Eligibility: Competition is open to all full-time tenured or tenure-track faculty members. Part-time faculty members who are actively involved in research may apply contingent upon providing a support letter from their department including information about end dates of their appointments. Applications may be submitted by individuals, teams, or research units. Applicants who currently hold an active ARRE from a previous year, or hold an external grant for the same project, are not eligible to apply. Should applicants be awarded external funds as a result of pending applications, their ARRE applications may be considered ineligible (please contact the Office of Research).

Funding Requirements: Matching funds are required from either internal or external sources and must be secured by the time of the event. Support letters confirming the contributions must be included in the application. In some cases, expenditures may be reimbursed retroactively, if clearly justified in the application.

Although ARRE-funded events should normally take place on the Concordia campus, for the 2020-2021 academic year, and in light of circumstances surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic, online events are encouraged for this application cycle. The funding is not primarily intended for recurring events and Faculty Research Committees will pay particular attention to such requests in their adjudication. Recurring events (ex: same conference, speaker series, workshop, etc.) will be funded no more than 3 consecutive years followed by a minimum pause of 2 years. Contribution to larger-scale conferences with many sources of funding may be considered in cases where the visibility of Concordia at the event is demonstrated.

Evaluation Criteria: As the Faculty Research Committee (FRC) may not include a member from the applicant’s discipline, adjudication will be based on the information that is presented; therefore, highly-specialized technical language and/or disciplinary jargon should be avoided.

Applications are evaluated and adjudicated by the FRCs, based on the selection criteria below. The weights are only suggestions and may be modified by the FRC at its discretion, but must be justified in the recommendation to the OVPRGS:

1. Impact of the project in terms of: (40%)
   - Objectives and expected outcomes of the event, publication, exhibition or performance activity
   - Importance of the event or workshop/lecture in fostering research synergies or facilitating critical debate
   - Dissemination of research and/or research creation accomplishments
   - Increased visibility of research at Concordia to the broader community
2. Quality of the planning, organization, and content of the proposed event/publication (20%)
3. Targeted audience and participation of Concordia Faculty, students and the community (30%)
4. Timeline and feasibility of the project (10%)
   - For in-person events planned to be held after January 1, 2021, the applicants should include a description of the measures to be put in place related to COVID-19, as well as a contingency plan should the restriction on in-person events be prolonged.

The University Research Committee (URC) will make the final decision on funding allocations based on the: 1) Faculty rankings, 2) number of recommended projects, 3) amount requested, and 4) availability of funds. The University may declare preferences related to its developmental needs and strategic directions, and might choose to fund those projects that best fit with this description in any given year.

Competition Deadlines: Faculties will set and communicate their own internal deadlines. Competition results will normally be announced by October 30, 2020 for the Fall competition and April 1, 2021 for the Spring competition.

Application Submission Procedures: Ready to apply? Specific application requirements are found in ConRAD by accessing Forms and then selecting the Apply New button and choosing the Aid to Research Related Events, Publications, Exhibitions and Dissemination Activities Form to complete.
